The Old Time Neighbor safe and till. In the great cities, The Chicago Tribune is inquiring

Press remarks, that the old-time neighbor has passed into tradition.

This leads one of our valued exchanges to say, truthfully, too:

"Not so, brothers.

"In a thousand country towns in the Middle-West, all sorrow with the unfortunate; all rejoice with the favored; all mourn with them that One housewife borrows a cup of flour when the exigencies of baking have caught here with a depleted flour bin. The sick have flowers and attention, and volunteers to net up with them. Those who celebrute birthday or wedding anniversaries have surprise parties to come in on them, bringing refreshments and neighborly cheer.

"And in the country-bless you, it you think the old-time neighbor has passed, just have central connect you with a country line and listen to the neighbors talk!

"No, thank the Lord, the neighbor has not passed into limbo of forgotten things-not yet. His cheery word is daily in our ears. Whether he knows it or not he is practicing Christianity, the highest teaching of the lowly Nazarene.

"It makes us glad we do not live in a city like Chicago, where the homey virtues are, to a great extent. crowded out and forgotten.

"The country town is a pretty good place to live, after all."

"Habit forming" is the subject of interesting page in one of the large manufacturing institutions of this country. For instance, here are some rules set forth for those who would form new and better habits:

Make good resolutions intelligently and record them.

Accumulate all circumstance which reinferce your res lutions.

3. Keep away from temptation. Keep away from associates who any
